ICE 0 Report

Here is a screenshot of my running Windows Forms App, which is a static window displaying the text “Hello GUI World!” in a fancy way:

There is no code to share in this ICE Project. All design and code was done (or generated) via the properties tab.

Question 1: What is the difference between VS Code and Visual Studio 2022?

Answer: VS Code is a text editor designed for lightweight and fast programming, whereas Visual Studio 2022 is a robust, feature-rich IDE with debugging tool and more.

Question 2: What control (Widget) do we use to write text on screen?

Answer: We use the “Label” control to write text on screen.
